

World Autism Awareness Day

2 April, 2020

I love colours, I love friends, I want love, I want liberty.

Adulthood brings new dreams, new challenges and a new world to all friends like me turning eighteen. I want to go to college too, if people around do not run away when I scream in joy, do not laugh at my clumsy moves, do not talk in a language that makes me more confused.

Yes I have Autism, and so I think in pictures, speak in songs, talk through paintings. I may be odd in your eyes, but I am the best for my Mom and for those who see me beyond my Autism.

I love to love, I love the love that you all love.....

‘Autistic people are different but not less’ - Dr. Temple Grandin

Dr. Aditi Bandyopadhyay

Faculty, Dept of Physiology, IPGME&R SSKM Hospital, & Managing Trustee, SAMYA FOUNDATION for Special Needs