Children wait eagerly throughout the year for the summer vacations to indulge themselves in fun frolic and travelling. But a tiny virus has jeopardised their plans. WBCPCR proposes to bring back fun in their lives by launching “Goromer Chhuti” on its website (www.wbcpcr.org) from 1st May, 2020.

It is a unique online creative space where celebrated authors, poets, actors, directors, musicians will narrate stories, conduct origami, acting workshops, recite poems, conduct quiz programmes and so on for children and offer a way for them to virtually travel anywhere they dream to escape. The Commission feels that exposure to the wealth of art, culture and literature will help children cultivate their creative thinking and develop a sense of wonder at the world and beyond.
